

Firstly, thank you for considering me for this. Being in this group as a guest and meeting you all has been both fun and a wonderful opportunity--an opportunity that I never took for granted for a single second. I hope this document is able to convey why I would make a great full member of the group as well as highlighting the things I've accomplished on the server so far.

Avalonia

My first day on 2b2t saw me set up with Avalonia, having contacted them before even joining the server, due to my interest in their previous builds at Avalysium, and within the first few hours on the server I had begun the journey through the end to the new base, which was around 5 mill by 6 mill, and took over 40 hours with 0 deaths. Back then, that felt like a massive endeavor and a big accomplishment off the bat, having never used a client before or played anarchy.

^ Space Avalonia

Lumos Isle & my start

From there I built with them, mostly our pearl bridge, and spent a lot of time in the end, until around March 2023. Being bored of the end, and wanting the full experience of 2b, Elijah204 and I went to spawn and began our first real spawn escape, which culminated in finding a stash at around 80k. After that, we founded Lumos Isles, which was our project from March until it was griefed around September and can now be found on the archive. We built there with the intention to stick around spawn and have the kind of fun we couldn't in the end, and through this I met 1drw who was basing nearby.

^ Lumos Ilse (archive)

During this time, I was watching a lot of streamers since I had been considering streaming myself, and I was getting comfortable with stash hunting. During about a 6 month period while still building at Lumos, I found over 600 dubs total from stashes mostly around spawn and under a million, which funded a lot of Lumos and also Avalonia at the time. Because of this, Avalonia turned over their entire stash to me to manage and combine with what I had already gathered. I've been schlepping that stash from border to border, through dimensions, since around June, only losing 15 dubs total due to someone finding the stash and negotiating its safe transport.

^ my old stash

I was lucky enough to be suggested to Joey for Migration 2, and I built a little flower cart there solo. This was my first real experience with a group outside Avalonia, and I met so many friends there for the first time, including Capy, and became even closer friends with Dek and a few others. I was really proud of this build although there is so much I would do differently now. After this, I was invited to Dek's private base where we built insane farms before and after the rollback. I miss that spot a lot.

^Migration 2 (archive)

Streaming. Meg Discord

At this point I was streaming fairly regularly, and created my own private discord and also organized HWCC - highway cleaning crew. We would get maybe between 5 and 8 of us every Sunday and clean the highways together, an activity that built a small community of friends and brought us closer together. Some of my best memories are from HWCC, like finding out Harrison had been to my end base, and meeting THE Constructor. While it's not as active as it used to be, we still clean the highways informally as a group when in the nether together.

SBA & Astral

I joined Astral, and SBA around this time, and built at several SBAs and a couple Astral bases like Fort Concord, Fatlantis, SBA 53 to SBA 63, our current SBA. Through SBA, I've made incredible friends and connections in the community and learned a lot. I put on the largest SBA event that had the highest attendance after being promoted to Trusted a month earlier. The SBA Awards ceremony at the end of last year was a highlight for me and something I am looking forward to continuing year over year. Earlier this year, 2024, I was promoted again to Overseer. Since the awards, I've continued to hold events with SBA, many of which are well attended and fun for the community.

^ Fort Concorde barge build (archive)

^ SBA 55 Build (archive)

^ SBA Awards event 2023

^ SBA Trivia 2024

Party Committee

I've done a lot of work with the Party Committee as well, having asked to join for the Halloween 2023 event. I built there with chiekn, putting up a giant Jesus on the Cross (blender by xray) and did the details on the bottom. This was a massive build for us, with printer not working, and we completed it on time, by hand. Chiekn and I became closer friends through this, and I loved that so much. Post-grief by 5C, I helped at and attended many of the events we cobbled together for the community for the Halloween event, which concluded at SBA, which I also built at. Christmas 2023 Party Committee event I built a Christmas Tree Farm, with 1drw, and I am super happy with that build.

^ Halloween 2023 Party Committee build (archive)

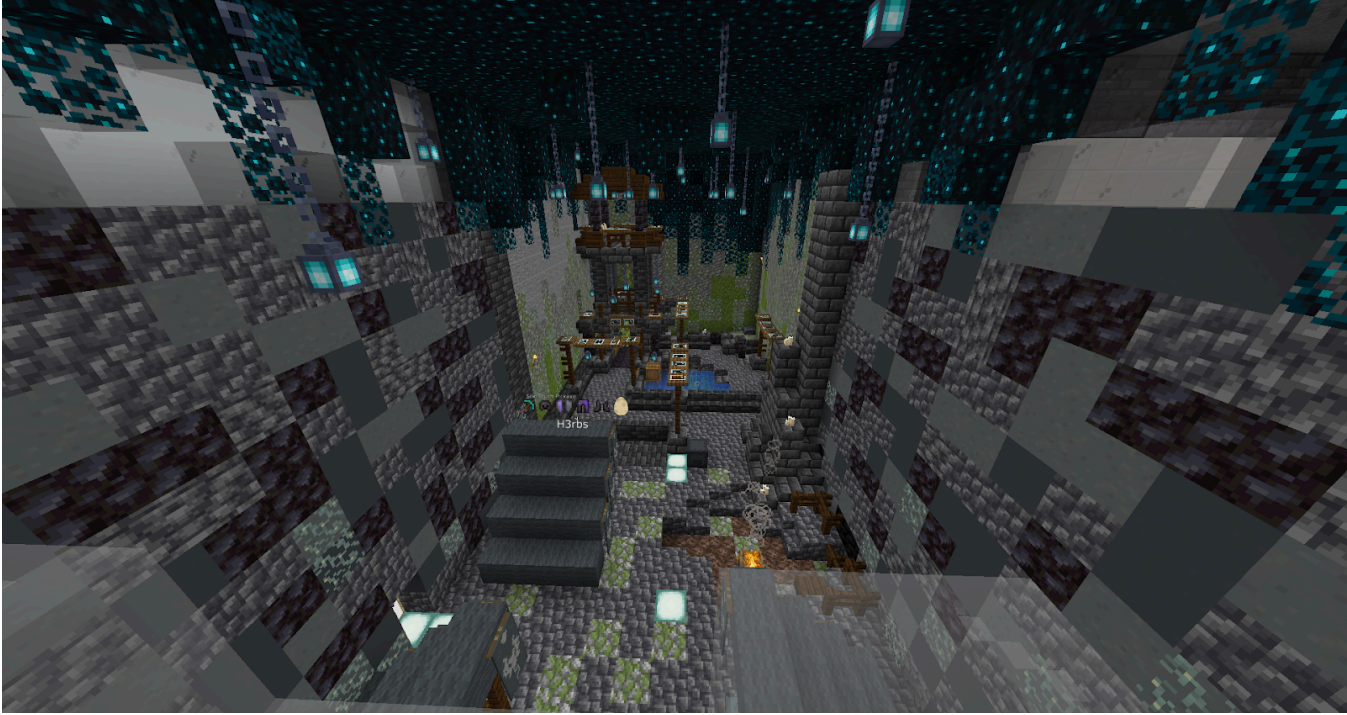

^ Christmas 2023 Party Committee Build (archive)

During the wiki take over days, I got involved by reaching out to Joey editing and working on making the wiki better, and received the role of Reviewer due to my work over there. The wiki project is always ongoing and will always need to be maintained and I consider this to be one of the biggest off-server resources 2b2t players have, and I am happy to be of help there, editing and putting up votes for pages and helping to research and resolve conflict, all with Joey's help and guidance.

Guest Mason

Since becoming a guest with the masons in August, I have done a lot with you guys! I've either built at or helped build many many lodges since joining, as well as attending most of them in game or in vc (even while on vacation). I built my own lodge, the Log Lodge, and have one this weekend as well I am making with Dan. Additionally, I got the title of Guestshipful and lead the guests in a lot of fun discussion and random lodge builds to increase morale and bond us together. Doing work with the guests is always fun and we've made a lot of good friendships there.

^ 6th Degree Lodge build

^ Log Lodge by me & 1drw & OLN

Everything I have ever been able to help at and be involved with as a guest, I have been. The first spot was the Isle, which we spent two whole days lighting up and didn't get a chance to build, but I would've! From there we had Lens Base, where P529 held a build contest that 1drw and I won! Since then, I was included in the first group of guests added to Water base, and built my little sandstone area, which expands constantly and has been really fun to build at. Currently, this is the spot I spend most of my time and the place I enjoy building at the most. Also being able to go check coords provided by Lamp and chiekn has been a nice break from the building from time to time and still provides value for the group on a small level.

^ Lens Base builds

I am not an average player, and I think the last year has proven that. I've managed to very quickly become established and a trusted player who invests a lot of time in their builds and groups, and am known on the server for being kind. I've had to prove myself to countless people that I am someone who isn't just another 2023 new friend with no brain, and I think I have, through my builds & projects, my friendships, and my commitment to making the server a better and more fun place for myself and others.

I've built with most large building groups, been invited to or helped make big events, built a community in my server that holds their own events, and have done things I will keep secret for my life span on this server. I am active in the server, and I've been working towards this for a long time. I love the friendship and connections I've made with those in the Spawnmasons and outside of them, but my heart is with this group, and these people, and I have invested a lot of time and myself into this group, and hope to continue to do so for as long as I am on 2b.